Instructions for Students Waiving Advisement

Please be aware that waiving advisement means you accept full responsibility for selecting the correct courses for your major and degree requirements. Potential consequences of incorrect course selections include:

- Jeopardizing financial aid for aid-eligible students
- Delaying progress toward degree completion

If you still wish to proceed with this option:

1. Read the important information and registration instructions in the Advisement and Registration Guide for the New Student.

2. Consider your Placement Test results:
   - English, Reading or Math placements beginning with “00” indicate the need for remedial coursework.
   - You are required to register for any remedial or developmental courses you may have placed into as a result of the Placement Test.
   - If you have placed into two or more of these developmental courses, you are also required to enroll in “NCC 101: The College Experience.”
   - There are credit-level courses you are restricted from taking as a result of any remedial placements.

3. Check your degree requirements:
   - View a semester-by-semester guide by clicking on and reviewing your Program of Study.
   - Liberal Arts students should view the Master Academic Plan (MAP) for a detailed guide to the liberal arts degree programs.
   - See 4d below.
   - Review course descriptions from the College Catalog for more information.

4. Log into your MyNCC Student Portal so you can register for your courses:
   a. Go to http://www.ncc.edu/myncc/; Click
   b. Enter your NCC ID (ex: N00999999) in the User ID box and your Password. (If this is the first time you are logging in, your password is your birthdate in six-digit format [MMDDYY] and you will be prompted to change your password.)
   c. Click on Login.
   d. Use the Degree Evaluation in the My Records menu.
      o This is especially useful for any student with transferrable credits since these credits should appear in the Degree Evaluation.
      o If you are expecting to receive transfer credit(s) and none appear, please contact the Office of Admissions at admissions@ncc.edu.
   e. Register for your classes using the Schedule Builder or Register for Classes link in your Launch Pad
