“You think I was born this way. Huh? Like some cutthroat pirate of the high seas? Hell I am trying to muddle through, that’s all”

“Great, Okay, now stop. Stay in it. Look at, look at your fourth wall. Now look imaginary Abby. Okay, so you just went off on her, so stay in it and we're going to talk for a second, but stay looking at her. So she accuse you. You're trying to vindicate yourself. You went off, which is uncharacteristic of you'd go off that much. She's not used to seeing you that way. How is she looking at you right now? How did what you do change the way she's looking at you? So take that in. Once you've taken in how you've changed her, keep going.”

“You loved Trivia so much. So here’s a little tidbit for ya’ - faking it. Okay.”

“Great. Again, check in with her, how does she, how is she reacting to that? Keep going”

“I take that back. This is me. Okay. I messed up every step my life Abby I'm not afraid to admit it. Happy to, actually, I am happy to sing it out there for anybody who wants to hear it.”

“Great. How did that feel?”

“It felt like, better. It’s a, I don’t know”

“It’s good!”

“It’s so general, but yeah no, it felt yeah, it made more sense.”

“We're still, we still are responsible for creating a world around us, using our imaginations to create that world”
